AMATEUR BURGLARS AT WORK IN MUNGER STREET DISTRICT

Access to Hill, Florence and McQuivey Homes Attempted Unsuccessfully

A trio of amateur burglars are thought to be working on Munger street. Mrs. Fred Hill has complained of a double attempt to break into her home, and similar reports have been made from the McQuivey and Florence farms in the same district. Two of the three suspected burglars were recognized as local young men.

The Hill house was tried by the thieves Wednesday and Thursday nights of last week. Mrs. Hill was away at the time, visiting her daughter in Chester. The housekeeper in her absence reported that in the dead of night the three men had unsuccessfully tried to pry open the hatchway door into the cellar and had smashed in the door of the back shed. Two pens and some tools were the sum total of the loot, as the access to the house could not be made.

At the Florence farm the tenant's week's supply of provisions was stolen and at Ben McQuivey's a screen door was broken before the prowlers were frightened away.

Postmaster Nearly a Quarter-century

Twenty-four years in the service of the same employer is a record of which anyone can be justly proud. But to serve that length of time for as particular a superintendent as Uncle Sam is still more enviable. B. G. Peck of East Middlebury completed yesterday the 24th year of an uninterrupted postmaster's service in that village. His popularity has kept him at his post when his neighbor postmasters went in and out with the changes of political administration.

Sheldon Memorial Foundation

The late Dr. Samuel Sheldon of Middlebury and for many years prominent identified with the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn is to be honored by the raising of a $100,000 endowment fund to be known as the Sheldon Foundation, the income from which will be used to pay the salary of the Sheldon Professorship in Electrical Engineering. The Register is advised by a letter from the Committee which is raising this fund that $18,000 has already been raised, the 920 donors including persons prominent in the engineering profession, personal friends and acquaintances, as well as trustees, professors and students of the Polytechnic. It thus affords an opportunity for anyone interested to contribute to this worthy memorial, and such contributions may be sent to Charles E. Potts, treasurer, 81 Franklin street, New York.

For correctly fitting glasses see Slater, Optometrist-Ophthalmic, at the Sagadahoc, next visit Wednesday, July 15.

When one scatters a feeding of corn to a chicken would it be reasonable to expect that chicken to get fat and grow because of that one feeding. Yet many, so-called, business men expect fat returns from one advertisement. Is that reasonable?
